Immediate Release

Edwardian-Themed Open Day to Celebrate Matilda International Hospital's 100th Anniversary

Matilda International Hospital will host an Edwardian-themed Open Day to celebrate its 100th anniversary from 2 – 4pm on 27 January 2007 (Saturday). All are welcome to celebrate with us.

As we go back through time, there will be many activities with an Edwardian theme such as Edwardian dance performance, Edwardian tea house, historical medical artifacts and games. Those who were born at Matilda can join our special ceremony to mark this memorable occasion. Special shuttle bus schedule will be available from Queen's Pier, Central or the Peak to the hospital. Call 2849 0355 to inquire free shuttle bus schedule on the event day.

The parents of the first baby (either normal delivery or emergency caesarean section) born on 27 January 2007 at the Matilda will receive 100 gifts to share the happiness. Gifts include special maternity package fee at HK$1,907 only, a cuddly teddy bear, a baby's bronze feet sculpture, 100 hours' baby clinic, limousine service and a number of free health education classes, etc. The first 100 parents who give birth babies from 27 January 2007 (including caesarean section) will receive a cuddly teddy bear, a baby blanket, baby clothes, towels, Matilda book and B is for baby book, etc.

Matilda International Hospital was set up by Granville Sharp in loving memory of his departed wife Matilda Lincolne. The hospital received its first patients on January 27 1907. In the first year, eighty four patients were treated. Today, we're serving patients in respect to Granville's bequest, "for the benefit, care and happiness of the patient."
